CASCADE ASSET MANAGEMENT PASSES SURPRISE E-STEWARDS INSPECTION OF MADISON FACILITY

Facility credited for commitment to sustainable and secure IT asset disposition

MADISON, WISCONSIN – Cascade Asset Management (Cascade), a national leader in providing full-service IT asset retirement solutions to businesses and institutions, successfully passed a random and wholly unannounced inspection of their Madison facility. The inspection, carried out by the e-Stewards Electronics Recycling Certification program, ensured Cascade’s compliance with e-Stewards Performance Verification (PV) program.

Following the inspection, auditors applauded the Cascade facility, noting it as “neat, clean and orderly,” with immaculate floors. Cascade’s mobile device processing area drew the attention of inspectors during the audit. “Best I’ve seen. Way too many phones are getting shredded by other companies.” Cascade was also complimented on well-maintained and easily presented records.

The inspection process was conducted virtually and was led by a highly trained e-recycling auditor touring the plant via video live stream, interviewing workers, visiting the workstations, storage, and shipping areas, and reviewing records and documents as requested.

“Passing the e-Stewards Inspection affirms Cascade’s goal to be a distinguished IT asset disposition partner,” said Neil Peters-Michaud, CEO of Cascade Asset Management. “Our e-Stewards certification ensures that our commitment to being a reliable, full-service provider is one you can trust.”
